Come follow me

The call to the first disciples in today's Gospel is simple and direct, and their response is beautiful and simple too. Who was this person calling them? What made him so attractive that they gave up their every day jobs to follow him? The same can be said about us, what are we doing here? Who taught us about Jesus and how do we pass on our love of our Lord to the next generation? Each generation is asked to be a witness, and to keep going we need to feel affirmed and strengthened, that's why we come to Mass and receive the Sacraments. The challenge to us also is to make our faith not just something privately kept within, but something alive and active and practical; this in itself allows us to keep fresh with an optimistic outlook, confident that the Lord walks with us. Let me put one of two practical ideas your way: you will see in the Newsletter this week that our Drop In Thursday begins 6th February we will need various people to cover times and weeks on a rota basis; can you help? There is a list at the back of the Church and a final planning meeting this Thursday after morning Mass please come along. I am also looking at options for forming a group for young people, which will help keep them plugged into the Parish and hopefully out of mischief! If you are training in youth work or would like to do after you finish School or if you are just willing to give up some time to help, please let me know. I think you will agree with me it is important to form some youth ministry here in the Parish to try and encourage our young people to stay with the Lord! mj

Pope Francis Tweet: It is not enough to say we are Christians. We must live the faith, not only with our words, but with our actions.
